

It works in a petri dish but the concentration of drug that would have to get into the lungs to be effective might not be possible in a person without having toxicity. Studies thus far are mixed and suffer from significant methodological flaws.

The jury is still out and there is not a recommendation for use at this point.

<https://www.covid19treatmentguidelines.nih.gov/statement-on-ivermectin/>